WAR CLOUD HANGS OVER THE BALKANS

Mobilization of Servian and Bulgarian Armies Is Under Way

WAR WITH TURKEY PROBABLE

Servian Minister to Turkey Leaves for Belgrade—All Greek Vessels Have Been Ordered to Leave Turkish Waters.

London, Sept. 30.—The Balkan difficulties have developed with alarming rapidity to a point where only a spark is needed to set the whole of Southeastern Europe aflame. Three of the Balkan States by common consent have ordered the simultaneous mobilization of their armies, and are making every preparation for immediate hostilities.

Two possible explanations are offered; the first, that a coalition of the Balkan States exists for the purpose of demanding from Turkey before she has time to conclude peace with Italy the grant of complete autonomy to the provinces; the second, that, fearing Turkey will seek an issue from her difficulties at home and abroad in war, they are preparing themselves for a possible attack.

Everything now seems to depend on whether the great powers will be able to bring sufficient pressure to bear to prevent the outbreak of hostilities and preserve the status quo in the Balkans. Today's undertaking between Bulgaria, Servia, Greece and Montenegro directed against Turkey.

The approach of Winter is held to be a factor in favor of peace and in the European capitals' hope is still cherished in diplomatic quarters that the efforts of the powers will be successful. The Russian and British representatives at Constantinople are energetically urging upon the Porte the necessity of carrying into execution her promised reforms in Macedonia, and are applying pressure to induce Turkey to modify her provocative military preparations, in the Adrianople district.

Rushing War Preparations.

Belgrade, Servia, Sept. 30.—War preparations are being carried on with feverish haste. General mobilization of the Servian army has been ordered and it is expected will be well under way within 24 hours.

The publication of news of military movements is forbidden. According to newspaper reports, the Servian minister to Turkey, Dr. Nenadovitch, has left Constantinople for Belgrade.

Belgrade is seething with excitement. The streets are full of uniformed reservists and the railway stations are crowded with men on their way to join the colors. The mobilization of the Bulgarian army simultaneously with that of Servia has added enthusiasm to the occasion.

Communication to the Porte.

Constantinople, Sept. 30.—Owing to the insistence of the Turkish government upon obtaining a written declaration of amity from Servia, the Servian minister, Dr. Nenadovitch, has sent another important communication to the Porte. This follows a communication which the minister addressed to the Porte Saturday respecting the stoppage of Servian ammunition after permission had been given for its passage through the Turkish lines. In reply to this the Turkish minister said that the consignment was detained because of the doubtful attitude of Servia. On the declaration by the minister that the Servian policy was unchanged, the Turkish foreign minister asked for a written statement embodying these assurances.

The present note invites the Porte to adopt a definite decision within 48 hours, either to sanction the passage of the ammunition or return it to France. The communication is couched in friendly but energetic terms. It is understood that failure to comply with the conditions will lead to the departure of the minister.

Greek Reserves Called In.

Alexandria, Egypt, Sept. 30.—The officers of the Greek army reserve here have received telegraphic orders to join the colors immediately.

Vessels Ordered From Turkey.

London, Sept. 30.—A Constantinople dispatch says all Greek vessels have received orders to leave Turkish waters.

Germany Prepared for Worst.

Berlin, Sept. 30.—The German foreign office is prepared for the worst in the Balkans since the issue of the mobilization orders in Servia and Bulgaria. The possibility is taken into consideraton, however, that the orders have been issued for tactical purposes and to bring pressure to bear on the Porte.

The exact aims of Servia and Bulgaria in mobilizing are their own secret and it is thought war may possibly break out without a formal declaration. The great powers, however, none of whom desire war, will continue their endeavors to prevent it until the last moment.

Greeks Mobolizing Also

Athens, Sept. 30.—The Greek government, in agreement with other Balkan States, tonight ordered the mobilization of her forces by sea and by land. The reason given for this step is apprehension on the part of the Balkan States that the mobilization of the Turkish army and the disquieting internal condition of Turkey might induce the Porte to seek a way out of the difficulties in war.

Denies Receiving Ultimatum

Constantinople, Sept. 30.—The foreign minister denied tonight that the government had received an ultimatum either from Bulgaria or from Bulgaria and Servia jointly.

GIBSON'S HEARING BEGAN YESTERDAY

Library of Congress

Coroner's Physician Testified Mrs. Szabo Was Choked to Death

DEFENSE OFFERED EVIDENCE

John Minturn, Who Was Near Scene of the Accident, Declared Mrs. Szabo and Gibson's Boat Turned Over.

Goshen, N. Y., Sept. 30.—Dr. Otto H. Schultze, of New York, a coroner's physician, took the witness stand this afternoon in the preliminary examination of Burton W. Gibson and testified that Mrs. Rosa Menschik Szabo, with whose death Gibson is charged, died of strangulation by compression on the throat, and not of drowning. Upon his testimony, District Attorney Rogers declared the State's case must stand or fall.

Dr. Schultze detailed the autopsy he performed on Mrs. Szabo's body, when it was exhumed from the cemetery in Jersey City, where Gibson, who was the woman's lawyer, had ordered it buried.

Adjournment for the day was reached with Dr. Schultze on the stand.

After adjournment, Dr. J. J. O'Reilly, professor of medico-legal jurisprudence at St. Lawrence University, here to combat for Gibson, the theory that Mrs. Szabo did not die of drowning, in a statement, said:

"Dr. Schultze's testimony was a learned and beautiful lecture. His analysis shows that death could have been due to any half dozen or more causes, including heart disease, acute indigestion, uremia and drowning.

Thousands of persons have drowned without inhaling water. It fits in beautifully with the defense.

Several State's witnesses preceded Dr. Schultze. John Minturn, storekeeper near Greenwood Lake, in whose waters Mrs. Szabo died, testified that Gibson and his companion were exchanging places at the moment their boat tipped over. He declared that he saw the boat rock and capsize, the struggle in the water, the reappearance of the man above the surface, and his clinging to the craft as it drifted away.

William Krompf, of Rutherford, N. J., was 300 feet away in his motor boat when the boat capsized. He heard Gibson yell, inarticulately, and soon was beside him.

"Don't mind; there is a lady there; look for her," he said Gibson shouted, as he neared the capsized fract.

Krompf pulled Gibson aboard his boat, which remained on the spot for 10 minutes while her crew of threee scanned tne water for Gibson's companion.

Albert McDaniell, whose row boat Gibson hired for the outing, declared that Mrs. Szabo wanted to take to the water in a canoe, but he told her it would probably upset. Gibson, he added, persuaded Mrs. Szabo to take a safer boat.

Gibson tonight said he expected to be held for the grand jury, but was confident that he would win his freedom on a trial.

"Everybody who testified today told the truth," he added, "but Dr. Schultze was in error in his conclusions."

MAY GIVE UP CASE

Mediators Despair of Settling Difficulties.

Washington, Sept. 30.—Unless the stubbornness which has marked the stand of both parties to the controversy between the Southern railroads and their trainmen is broken without the next 48 hours, mediators are expected to give up the case. This was the situation tonight immediately following two sessions the mediators held with the trainmen. Conferences will continue tomorrow.

Since the controversy was undertaken by the mediators it is understood neither side has attempted to aid the government's agents by conceding the slightest point. If the efforts of the mediators finally fail the controversy probably will be submitted to a board of arbitration.

OPPONENTS OF DIX BESIEGE TAMMANY

Murphy Is Urged to Withdraw His Support From N. Y. Governor

CONVENTION MEETS AT NOON

Delegates Gather for Meeting Today and Consider Availability of Different Candidates—Several in the Running.

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 30.—The night before the Democratic State Convention that meets here tomorrow found a sharply drawn issue over the re-nomination of Governor Dix. All day opponents of the Governor massed their forces around the headquarters of Leader Charles F. Murphy, of Tammany Hall, to urge him to withdraw his support from the Governor. When night came they claimed to have won a victory. They asserted that the Governor would not be re-nominated, and that the availability of other candidates was being considered.

Justice Victor J. Dowling, of New York, and Congressman William Sulzer were said to be the leading candidates in opposition to Governor Dix.

Others talked of Wyman H. Glynn, of Albany, who is to preside as temporary chairman of the convention; John Purroy Mitchell, president of the board of aldermen of New York; Supreme Court Justice James W. Gerard; Lieut. Gov. Thomas F. Conway, Thomas D. Lockwood, and Senator George B. Burd, of Buffalo.

Nominations for the State ticket are not expected until Thursday, and Murphy has let it become known that he thinks plenty of time should be taken to consider the situation. The Tammany leader insists that the convention will be an open one.

The convention will assemble at noon tomorrow and hear the keynote speech of Chairman Glynn.

A progressive platform, intended to go at least as far as that of the other parties, was discussed tonight in preparation for the organization of the committee on resolutions.

Wilson Calls Dix's Bluff.

Seagirt, N. J., Sept. 30.—Governor Wilson, when he reached Seagirt tonight from Atlantic City, where he had made a brief speech of welcome to the American Good Roads Congress, permitted the correspondents to announce formally that he had read with great surprise the statement said to have been made by Governor Dix today, for he had absolutely no recollection of having written Governor Dix any letter in which he expressed an opinion of any kind as to his administration.

The Presidential nominee referred to a statement issued at Albany early in the day by Governor Dix in answer to Governor Wilson's pronouncement of yesterday, urging the Democratic State Convention to name a progressive man. Governor Dix had been quoted as asserting that there was nothing in his personal correspondence with Governor Wilson to indicate that the Presidential nominee opposed him. Governor Wilson was greatly astonished when he was shown Governor Dix's statement and although at first hesitant to make any comment, as he desired to avoid any personal references, he finally allowed the reporters to quote him indirectly as stated above.

The Governor said he had received many telegrams today commending his action of last night when he urged that the New York convention be free and open.

FALL DENIES REPORT.

Senator Says He Hasn't Recommended Intervention in Mexico.

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 30.—Senator A. B. Fall denied today that he and William A. Smith, of the special Senate committee investigating conditions in Mexico, had decided to recommend intervention. He added that no preliminary report had or would be made until the ultimate findings of the committee were announced. Senator Smith is in California and Mr. Fall is here continuing the investigation.

Senator Fall said that the committee obtained evidence that the so-called Socialist element was attempting to unseat President Madero, after assisting in exiling ex-President Diaz and that the plan was to set up a Socialist government in Mexico. He added that some evidence showed that certain labor and political elements in the United States were assisting the Mexican Socialists to this end.

The Industrial Workers of the World and the Western Federation of Miners were mentioned in the evidence," said Senator Fall.

Ely, Nev., Sept. 30.—Emphatic denial was made by President Moyer, of the Western Federation of Miners, today, when he was shown a dispatch from El Paso in which Senator Fall was quoted as saying that the federation was mentioned in the evidence tending to show that certain American organizations were interested in promoting the revolution in Mexico with a view to establishing a social commonwealth.

"The federation has taken no part in any way at any time in the troubles of Mexico as an organization or as individuals so far as I know," said Mr. Moyer.

LEADERS CALL OFF LAWRENCE STRIKE

Clashes and Riots Mark the Day's "Demonstration" Walkout

THE TRIAL AT SALEM OPENS

Jos. J. Ettor, Arturo Giovannitti and Jos. Caruso Are Placed on Trial for Murder in Connection With Last Strike.

Lawrence, Mass., Sept. 30.—Organized labor for the first time in the country conducted a "demonstration" strike here today against the imprisonment of labor leaders. After hand-to-hand clashes between rioters and police lasting all day the "demonstration" was declared off by the Industrial Workers of the World.

The strike was called for 24 hours, beginning this morning, in protest against the imprisonment of Joseph J. Ettor, Arturo Giovannitti and Joseph Caruso, whose trial in connection with the death of Anna Lopizzo opened in Salem today. Seven thousand of the 25,000 operatives in the cotton and woolen mills here obeyed the call, forcing out 5,000 others either through intimidation or lack of work because of closing down of departments. Then at a mass meeting late this afternoon, the workers were told to go back to work tomorrow ready to come out again at the call of the Industrial Workers, if the leaders are not satisfied with the progress of the trial.

The worst rioting occurred at the opening of the mill gates this morning. Pickets armed with revolvers knives, sledge hammers, iron bolts and other weapons, attempted to stop operatives from going into the mills. When police interfered to maintain order, the pickets struggled with them desperately. Swinging their clubs with effect the blue coats drove back the pickets. A score of arrests were made.

Men, women and children on their way to work, were held up and assaulted by strikers or sympathizers.

But one hospital case was reported, that of an operative who was thrown headlong from a street car and rendered unconscious. No policeman was wounded and no shots were fired.

It was announced at headquarters that a vote would be taken tomorrow among the textile unions of Lowell on the matter of striking in the big cotton mills there, and that similar action would be taken at other New England mill centers during the present week. The Industrial Workers are sending out circulars throughout the country, it was learned, asking individual mill operatives whether they are ready to go out on a general strike as a protest against the trial of Ettor and Giovannitti, "if it is not conducted properly."

Two Jurors Accepted

Salem, Mass., Sept. 30.—Of one hundred and six talesmen examined by Joseph F. Quinn in the Superior Court here today for jury duty in the murder trial of Joseph J. Ettor, Arturo Giovannitti and Joseph Caruso, growing out of the Lawrence strike riot last Winter, only two were acceptable.

The two men who occupied seats in the jury box when court adjourned tonight were Christian S. Larsen, a Haverhill hair dresser, and Robert S. Stillman, a carpenter, of Rockport.

Caruso, who is charged with being the principal in the murder of Anna Lopizzo during the Lawrence strike, did most of the challenging today. He spoke through an Italian interpreter.

Ettor and Giovannitti, who are charged with being accessories before the fact, challenged five talesmen between them.

A crowd of several hundred people, many of them idle mill operatives from surrounding cities, hung about the Court House throughout the day, but caused no disturbance. The only demonstration came when the prisoners were being taken in and out of the building when the crowd gathered about the carriages and cheered loudly.

Fifteen Thousand Workmen Strike

Boston, Mass., Sept. 30.—Fifteen thousand Massachusetts workmen tsruck today in protest against the improvement of the three leaders of the Industrial Wokers of the World, whose trial on murder charges in connection with last Winter's textile strike in Lawrence opened in Salem this morning. Repeated clashes between rioters and the police occurred in Lawrence, where 12,000 cotton and woolen mill workers were out. There were many minor injuries, but no one was seriously hurt. In Quincy between one and two thousand men and women paraded the streets, calling out workmen from the granite quarries, but there was no outbreak.

Minor disturbances also developed in Lynn, where a few hundred shoe workers struck and attempted to get others to join them. In Haverhill 300 shoe operatives anticipated a general sympathetic strike which had been planned for Wednesday. Their parade about the city did not add any recruits to their ranks.

VENABLE REPORTS ON HAZING

Executive Committee of the University Declines to Go Behind Faculty And Refers Hazing Investigations to Them

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 30.—After hearing the report of President Venable and listening to the defense of D. L. McWhorter, a suspended Junior, theexecu tive committee ofth e University this afternoon declined to go behind the faculty's probe of the matter of hazing last Spring and this Fall, and referred such matters back to the faculty. President Venable made a lengthy report, in which he said that the faculty in investigations of hazing incident to the Rand affair, had learned that Sophomores of the previous year had been guilty and these had so far as was possible been punished by suspension. Hazing began at the University this Fall even before registration day. The first Monday night of opening week some Sophomores made Freshmen dance. This was followed Tuesday and Wednesday nights and on Thursday night, the night Rand fell from the barrel, three distinct incidents occurred. Freshmen were made to dance, Dr. Venable said, but in the investigation it was shown that no Sophomores laid violent hands on Freshmen. Seniors and other upper-class men interfered and in one instance a Sophomore drove a crowd from his room. Only 15 men, as far as could be learned, had practiced this form of brutality. University men and others in Raleigh do not approve of the faculty's action in going after last year's alleged hazers, they believing it too far-fetched. Those men suspended or expelled have been given the privilege of appealing to the faculty.

"This affair of last Spring" said President Venable, consisted in a c rowd of students going to the cottage on Franklin street near Pickard's Hotel, where there were three Freshmen. Whey they tried to get them out the Freshmen closed and barred the door. A pistol was fired at the room. Examination the next day showed three possible bullet barks. Stones were thrown through the window. There was much noise and firing of pistols with blank cartridges. The president was absent on the night of the occurrence. On his return he found the student council making an investigation, also the dean on the part of the faculty and the mayor of the town. He gave such assistance as he could. The student council after some days reported failure on their part to find the guilty parties and the other investigations also failed.

"After the coroner's inquest in the Rand case some two weeks ago an official of the town gave the president information which was followed up by the committee of the faculty, disclosing some of the parties engaged in the affair. It was our clear duty to punish the guilty whenever found out."

The Wake county grand jury tomorrow is expected to return bills of indictments against officers of Wake county for the alleged unsanitary conditions of a convict camp and for the reported flogging of a convict.

The Chamber of Commerce and the Progressive party of Wake county have appointed committees to give Col. Roosevelt entertainment when he arrives tomorrow afternoon. He will speak at night in the Auditorium.

"OIL TRUST" HEARING RESUMED

Standard Oil Secretary-Treasurer Testifies in Legal Fight Between Waters-Pierce Co., and Rockefeller Interests.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—George W. Stahl, brother-in-law of John D. Archbold, and secretary-treasurer of the Standard Oil Company, of Indiana, was the chief witness today in the resumption of the legal fight between H. Clay Pierce, of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company, of St. Louis, and the Rockefeller interests. Counsel for Mr. Pierce devoted the entire day in efforts to prove their contention, that John D. Rockefeller, John D. Archbold and other important men in the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, still own and control the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, despite the dissolution order of the United States Supreme Court.

The hearings are based on mandamus proceedings brought by Col. Robert E. Stewart, of Chicago, against the Waters-Pierce Oil Company to compel its officers to accept his vote of proxies he holds in their corporation.

The Waters-Pierce officers refused to accept these proxies on the ground that they were controlled by the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, and therefore were being used illegally in opposition to the decree of the Federal Supreme Court.

Beginning at a date in December, 1911, Mr. Stahl was questioned closely regarding all directors' meetings of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana.

Under the questioning of Attorney Fordyce, he said that a board of five directors who personally owned but 17 shares of stock in the Indiana corporation, voted 8,008 proxies when the capital stock of the concern was increased from $1,000,000 to $30,000,000 after the Supreme Court dissolution order had been issued. He testified this was done without any order or suggestion from Mr. Rockefeller or Mr. Archbold and so far as he knew on the initiative of the five directors.

"How were Mr. Rockefeller's personal stockholdings in the Standard Oil Company of Indiana affected by the increased capitalization?" Mr. Stahl was asked.

"Mr. Rockefeller owned 2,482 shares. When the capital stock was increased to $30,000,000 he automatically became holder of 74,460 shares."

Stahl then testified that the 80 new stockholders had come into the Indiana company since the dissolution.

The witness then was directed to bring before the examiner a complete list of both old and new holders of stock in the Indiana corporation.

REVENUE DISTRICTS MERGED.

Four Are Abolished and Added to Raleigh District.

Washington, Sept. 30.—Four internal revenue districts, including the South Carolina district, were abolished today in accordance with Congressional action. The South Carolina district, of which Micah J. Jenkins was collector, with headquarters at Columbia, is merged with the Raleigh, N. C., district.

Danville, Va., Sept. 30.—Carolina Comer, negro cook, was struck by a Southern Railway locomotivea tonight just south of Danville and killed. While crossing the track ahead of the engine her hat blew off and she turned back to recover it with fatal consequence.

BIG FUND RAISED AT T. R.'S REQUEST

Harriman Agent and Attorney Thus Testify at Campaign Probe

NOTED CORRESPONDENCE READ

All That Passed Between Roosevelt And Harriman Placed Before Investigating Committee—Little Brought Out

Washington, Sept. 30.—All of the correspondence between President Roosevelt and the late Edward H. Harriman, from 1901 until Mr. Harriman's differences with Mr. Roosevelt in 1906, was placed in evidence today before the Senate committee investigating campaign expenditures.

Out of the scores of letters, covering every subject from exhibits of Indian pictures to the appointment of Federal judges and territorial Governores in Arizona, the Senate committee was able to secure little new light bearing upon the subject of campaign contributions or the disputed question of whether or not President Roosevelt had apesifihally asked Mr. Harriman in 1904 to raise a fund of $240,000 for the aid of his campaign.

C. C. Tegethoff, agent for the Harriman estate and former private secretary to Mr. Harriman and Charles A. Peabody, president of the Mutual Life Insurance Company and personal attorney for Mrs. Harriman in the administration of the estate, both testified that Mr. Harriman had told them the raising of the big campaign fund had been undertaken at President Roosevelt's request, a statement which Mr. Harriman made before his death, but which was denied by Colonel Roosevelt.

Aside from the file of the letters given the committee, no documentary evidence was offered, however; and out of the many letters none was produced except that written by Mr. Harriman to Sidney Webster, January 2nd, 1906, that in any way bore upon the charge that President Roosevelt had asked the railroad man to raise funds.

The Webster letter, made public by Mr. Harriman himself during the controversy with President Roosevelt over the fund, intimated that Mr. Harriman had been asked by the President to raise the fund; and that it had been the understanding among financial men to whom he appealed that Senator Depew was to be given the ambassadorship to Franle.

William Flinn, of Pittsburg, Roosevelt leader in Pennsylvania, and E. H. Hooker, of New York, treasurer of the Progressive party, will appear before the committee tomorrow.

Earlier in the day, when the committee opened its hearings, Cornelius B. Bliss, Jr., produced three letters, which he claimed were the only ones bearing on campaign matters, left by his father, who was treasurer of the Republican National Committee in 1904. None of the three letters touched upon the facts alleged by John D. Archbold, that Mr. Bliss had assured him President Roosevelt would welcome a contribution of $100,000 from the Standard Oil Company. One bore directly on campaign contributions and was a vigorous defense of Mr. Bliss' integrity, written by President Roosevelt in 1906, in which the President asserted that no one had asked him for favors because of contributions to his campaign fund; and that no one had been favored or discriminated against because of their contributions, or their opposition to him.

The receipt given Mr. Harriman for his personal contribution of $50,000 was produced by Mr. Tegelhoff; but he said he did not know what other men had contributed to the so-called Harriman fund. The checks passed through his hands, he said, but he had no way of identifying them.

The Senate Committee had expected to hear Ormsby McHarg, contest manager for Colonel Roosevelt last Spring, at today's session. Mr. McHarg was at the committee room, but after a short conference of the members, he was asked to appear Tuesday, October 8th. No explanation of the postponement was given except that the committee members wanted to "complete the investigation of certain data before McHarg was questioned concerning his campaign work in the South.

GIANTS' STOCK GOING UP

Their Work Behind Recruit Pitchers Shows Strength of Team

New York, Sept. 30.—Enthusiasts who are following the concluding work of the New York Giants before the world's series, are being surprised with the strength of McGraw's string of recruit pitchers. Such men as Demaree, Kirby, Goulait and Bader, all strange names in the Giants' line-up, have been tried out in the past few games since the pennant was assured, and helped to boost the Giants showing.

Bader, a youngster from Dallas, Texas, pitched a winning game against Philadelphia today, although nine hits were made off him. None of these recruits is eligible for the big games next week, but the fact that they are winning games is pointed to by many fans as indicating strong men behind them. In the last five games the Giants have played the only one lost was pitched by the so-called star of the team, Jeff Tesreau, against Boston on Saturday.

Today's victory was the 101st for the Giants this season, one less than the string of Boston American victories to date. Predominance of earlier opinion that the Red Sox would be strong favorites in the world's series is weakening, particularly here. Many of the "experts" say the contenders are so evenly matched that a seven-game series is not at all unlikely.

The clear, cool day, keeping the crowd at the Polo Grounds in a shivering state, led to much speculation as to world series weather. The heavy rains last week are believed to have emptied the clouds for some time to come, but chill winds, more in order for football than baseball, seemed from unofficial observation to be in prospect. It is recalled that last year, the weather was so rainy during the big game season that it took 13 days to dispose of the six contests.

DUPLIN MOOSERS MEET.

Convention Endorses Teddy, Ignores Taft, and Names County Ticket.

Warsaw, N. C., Sept. 30.—The Bull Moosers of Duplin held their convention at Kenansville today. It was the same old gang of Republicans under a new name. They endorsed Teddy, ignored Taft, and nominated a full county ticket, with J. J. Best for the Legislature, who is at present residing in Franklin county, as principal of the Youngsville High School. The postmasters were conspicuous for their absence, although it is said they are for Teddy and Bull Moosers of the first water.

J. B. Winders, pastmaster at Warsaw, Taft appointee, was elected chairman of the Progressive party for Warsaw township, and H. J. Faison, one time Democrat, another Populist, then Republican and at present Bull Mooser, was made chairman of the county. Chairman Faison addressed the convention on the high cost of living and delivered an eulogy on Roosevelt by saying he was the greatest man in capitivity, and this, of course, was loudly applauded by the 38 members of the convention. C. C. Vann, repeating Republican candidate for the Legislature, was called on for a speech, and he responded by disturbing the atmosphere at some length in denunciation of the Democratic party. The climax of the convention came when R. A. Walker, a new recruit, in loud and sonorous tone, cried out "Woodrow Wilson, is the man Mr. Roosevelt put in jail for helping Wall Street when he (Roosevelt), was President." This, of course, was too much for Bull Moosers, for where ignorance was bliss it was folly to be wise, and immediately the convention adjourned.

Washington, Sept. 30.—Boston defeated Washington today 7 to 5. O'Brien had Washington puzzled until the seventh, when with his team leading by six runs, he slowed up and was hit hard. Engle, wild and ineffective, retired after the sixth and Washington used two recruit pitchers. A double by Stahl with the bases full and catches by Yerkes and Laporte were features.

THE BOYS' BRIGADE.

The Fall and Winter Work of Institution Will Open Tonight.

Tonight will witness the opening of the gymnasium classes at the Boys' Brigade for the season 1912 and 1913, and from all indications this will be the greatest season in every department in the history of the institution. The class will be under the direction of Mr. J. B. Huntington. The hour of starting is 8 o'clock and the first class will probably be very large. There are many ambitious youngsters in the Brigade who are enthusiastic in their efforts to excel as athletes, gymnasts and basketball players and these will enter with a vim into the plans this season.

Every night this Winter will witness something interesting in the gymnasium as the number wishing to take advantage of this feature will be greatly augmented this season by the addition of several of the members of the Y. M. C. A., who will use the Brigade gymnasium through the courtesy of Col. Walker Taylor, who has very kindly granted their request to be admitted to temporary membership while the new Y. M. C. A. building is in course of erection. Except the Tuesday night class, which will be in charge of Mr. J. B. Huntington, all other features will be under direct supervision of Mr. Chas. Dushan, the secretary.

Elaborate plans are being made for the men's meeting to be held at the armory next Sunday afternoon. W. P. Stacy, Esq., has been secured to deliver the address of the occasion and all who have had the pleasure of hearing this gifted young speaker, will learn of this opportunity with great pleasure and standing room will probably be at a premium. The popular Acme Male Quartette will render two appropriate selections in their own splendid style which never fails to give keen pleasure to their hearers. The meeting will be for men only. The hour will be 5 o'clock.

CROOM OUT ON BOND

Released From the County Jail Yesterday Afternoon

C. T. Croom, a well-known young white man, charged with the murder of Magistrate J. H. Sykes, who died a few weeks ago following a difficulty with Croom some months previous when he received a blow in the head that is said to have caused disintegration of the brain, was released from the county jail yesterday afternoon at 3:50 o'clock after having been in the institution less than a week. He was released on $500 bond with M. L. Starkey and Sam Seigler, Jr., surety. Judge Carter first fixed the bond at $1,000, but later reduced it to $500. Croom expressed himself as being very glad indeed to again be on the outside of the institution. It will be recalled that he gave himself up to Sheriff Cowan and Justice Harriss last Wednesday and that it was stated at that time the reason he delayed in surrendering was because he had a horror of the jail. The State will hardly contend for anything more than manslaughter. The evidence before the coroner's jury was to the effect that Sykes was knocked down by Croom and that in the fall the back of his head struck the hard sidewalk, causing a wound that finally resulted in his death.

Made Two Talks Sunday

Mr. S. W. Armour, representing "The Gideons," a Christian organization among the traveling salesmen of the country, made a talk at Grace Street Methodist church Sunday morning and at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church Sunday evening. "The Gideons" have as their special work the placing of Bibles in the various hotels throughout the country. In both of his addresses Sunday he asked for contributions to replenish the stock of Bibles in the Wilmington hotels. A substantial sum was contributed and this was placed in care of Mr. J. B. Huntington, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., with which to order the Bibles.

CAPTAIN J. ALVES WALKER

Honored Wilmington Citizen Entered Into Rest Sunday Morning, Following Stroke of Paralysis. The Funeral.

In the death of Capt. J. Alves Walker, which occurred at his home, No. 111 South Fourth street, at 9:10 o'clock Sunday morning, following a stroke of paralysis on last Thursday morning, and recurrent attacks since that time, Wilmington loses one of its most honored and venerable citizens.

Enjoying remarkably good health until very recently, his hundreds of friends in Wilmington and elsewhere were totally unprepared last week for the announcement that Capt. Walker had been stricken and the announcement of his death came Sunday as a distinct shock to all. From the first, however, the attending physicians held out little hope, but few who knew the genial, kindly, typical Southern gentleman, could realize that he had gone out from among them. Of striking personality, an urbanity that is born, not acquired, of engaging and polished manners, he was one of the few who have tarried here to link the present with the past. With universal regret his death has been received by all.

Capt. Walker was of distinguished lineage and was born, the son of Major John Walker, of Berwick, Eng., and a grandson of Thomas Walker and the Honorable Anne Wodehouse, on his paternal side, and a grandson of Gen. Thomas Davis, of Fayetteville, on his maternal side, May 1st, 1835. He was a grand nephew of Lieut. Col. "Jack" Walker, aide to Gen. George Washington. Himself a close student of affairs, an untiring reader and a conversationalist of rare gifts, his store of knowledge was large and his views and opinions were often sought. He was the oldest and one of the original charters members of the Cape Fear Club, Wilmington's leading social organization, and in this circle of friends and companions he was especially highly esteemed and beloved. His kindly presence in this midst as well as in the circle of his family will be sadly missed in after years. He was also a member of the Society of the Cincinnati and gave of his substance and his influence to the perpetuation of the worthy tenets of this brotherhood.

Capt. Walker is survived by two sisters, Mrs. John Cowan and Mrs. Frederick Fosgate, and one niece, Miss Hannah Patteson Bolles, who had made their home with him for years. There are also four other nieces, Mrs. Alice Everett, Miss Maria Walker and Mrs. W. H. Cox, of this city, and Mrs. Robert Jones, of Newbern, and five nephews, Associate Justice Platt D. Walker, of the State Supreme Court; Messrs. John W. Bolles and William B. Walker, of Hong Kong, China, and Messrs. Robert H. and James H. Cowan, of Wilmington.

Justice Walker arrived Sunday evening from Raleigh and Mr. and Mrs. Pembroke Jones, devoted friends of Capt. Walker, arrived yesterday morning from New York to be with the family and attend the obsequies. Among a number of telegrams of condolences was one received yesterday from Mrs. Henry M. Flagler, of New York.

The funeral of Capt. Walker will be held at 11 o'clock this morning from St. James' Episcopal church and the interment will be in Oakdale. Members of Cape Fear Camp, U. C. V., will attend the obsequies in a body, being called to assemble this morning at 10:30 o'clock for this purpose.

Banquet for 100 Kids.

Wednesday night of this week at the branch hall of the Salvation Army at Fourth and Wright streets, the local post of the Army, expects to entertain about 100 poor boys of the city at an elaborate spread. The banquet will be given under the direction of Adjutant Mataxas, who is in charge of the work in this city. He asks that the people of the city so inclined donate something for the banquet—money, fruits, cake, ice cream, etc.

DANGER PERIOD OF WOMANS' LIFE FROM 45 to 50

Interesting Experience of Two Women—Their Statements Worth Reading.

Asheville, N.C.—"I suffered for years with female trouble while going through the Change of Life. I tried a local physician for a couple of years without any substantial benefit. Finally after repeated suggestions to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I quit my physician and commenced using it with the happiest results. I am today practically a well woman and anxious to contribute my mite towards inducing others to try your great medicine, as I am fully persuaded that it will cure the ailments from which I suffered if given a fair chance.

"If you think this letter will contribute anything towards further introducing your medicines to afflicted women who are passing through this trying period, it is with great pleasure I consent to its publication."—Mrs. JULIA A. MOORE, 17 East St., Asheville, N. C.

The Case of Mrs. Kirlin.

Circleville, Ohio.—"I can truthfully say that I never had anything do me so much good during Change of Life as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Before I had taken one half a bottle of it I began to feel better, and I have continued taking it. My health is better than it has been for several years. If all women would take it they would escape untold pain and misery at this time of life."—Mrs. ALICE KIRLIN, 353 W. Mill St., Circleville, Ohio.

The Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. At such times women may rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

..Theatrical..

The Academy of Music last night presented the Mills & Bernard Musical Comedy Company in the big laughing hit "Hip Hooray." The entire performance was a big hit, judging from the many encores given and the hearty applause. Mills and Bernard are entertainers such as the Weber-Fields type. They have a finish to their character make-ups that deserve especial praise. Al Watson, who portrayed the Hebrew character, was all that could be desired. Miss Elizabeth Rowena, as the College Widow, has a most attractive personality and received many encores for her singing. The large chorus is one of the prettiest that has been at the local play house this season. Taken all in all the production as put on at the Academy last night is the biggest thing that this popular playhouse has ever offered at these prices.

Tonight the management of the Academy and Messrs. Mills and Bernard will relinquish the stage for Hon. F. M. Simmons, who will address the Democratic voters of New Hanover county.

"Hip Hooray" will be given again Wednesday for two performances, matinee and night. Special matinee prices, children 10 cents, adults 20 cents. Doors for the matinee will open at 2:30, curtain rises at 3:15. Night prices are only 10, 20 and 30 cents. Seats now on sale at Plummer's.

At The Grand Theatre

Mr. Leonard Chick will sing at the Grand Theatre today "There's Nothing Like a Mother's Love," the truest song ever written and one which has been all the rage all through Boston and New England for the past several weeks. This will be the big feature at The Grand today, but it will be by no means the only one. In the "moveys" there will be a picture of the "National Soldiers' Home" in Virginia. The beautiful grounds, groupings of the grizzly veterans and life at the Home in general will be shown in picturesque and entertaining style.

Then the other feature will give a decided color and vivacity to the bill. It is a Selig of "The Cattle Rustlers," a story of Western wrongdoing. It is a thriller from beginning to end and opens up with the annual rounding-up at Great Moore Ranch in Colorado. There's a girl in the story and all told it will interest and fascinate from start to finish. Then there will be a third film and all told the show today will be worth twice the price of admission.

At the Bijou.

It was truly a big start the new week got at the popular Bijou yesterday. The bill was a fine one and the audiences were large and heartily appreciative in accordance with their size.

Today's bill is going to be another great triumph, including three reels of the very latest and most costly films. The topliner will be the greatest human-nature photoplay ever flashed on a screen and it comes direct from factory to the Bijou appearing in Wilmington at the same time it is presented in New York and the other large cities. It is "Bill Wilson's Gal", and it is the most wholesome of all films, carrying a big moral. It shows the handicap a girl has with a drunken father and the means she adopted to try and get the saloon keeper of the town not to sell her father any more whiskey.

Another great film on today is "The Sacrifice." It has a touch of the glare of the footlights about it, and it is intensely dramatic. It is unique in theme and also sets forth a big moral. The other films are also fine ones and should not be missed.

OF WILMINGTON

MR. GEO. P. GANZER DEAD.

Former Esteemed Wilmingtonian Passes Away in Portsmouth, Va.

Many Wilmington friends learned yesterday with sorrow of the death of Mr. George Phillip Ganzer, a native and for many years a resident of Wilmington, who passed away in Portsmouth, Va., yesterday morning, following an operation for appendicitis with which he was stricken while on a visit here last week. Mr. Ganzer did not anticipate any serious consequences from the slight attack which he at first suffered, but upon his return to Portsmouth the attack became acute and the operation came too late. Mr. Ganzer was a son of the late Mr. Chas. H. Ganzer, of this city, and would have been 45 years of age on October 31st. He removed from Wilmington about 15 years ago and was employed in the United States Navy Yard at Portsmouth. His death is especially sad from the fact that only last December he suffered the loss of his wife and then a few months later that of an infant daughter.

Mr. Ganzer is survived by his mother, Mrs. Margaret Ganzer, and three sisters, Mrs. Lena Avent, Mrs. J. P. Queich and Mrs. C. E. Hall, of Wilmington, who have the sympathy of many friends in their sorrow. The remains will reach Wilmington this evening at 6:15 o'clock and will be taken to the home of his mother, No. 806 North Fourth street, whence the funeral will be conducted at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning by Rev. A. D. McClure, D. D., pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. The interment will be in Oakdale.

WICKERSHAM'S OPINION.

In Regard to Newspaper Law Is Given to Hitchcock.

Washington, Sept. 26.—Attorney General Wickersham today sent to Postmaster General Hitchcock a written opinion on certain phases of the new Federal law requiring daily and weekly newspapers and some other publications to present to the postmaster general semi-annual sworn statements of circulation, ownership of their stocks and bonds and other information, under penalty of denial of the use of the mails.

The attorney general upholds the postmaster general's construction that it is immaterial whether subscriptions are individual or in bulk and that the provision of the law covers the number of copies of a publication distributed to certain paid subscribers by any means.

Mr. Wickersham's opinion, prepared at the direction of President Taft, does not touch upon the constitutionality of the law, which is part of the Postoffice Appropriation bill enacted at the last session of Congress.

Mr. Hitchcock inquired whether the law "shall be limited to paid individual subscriptions, or shall include purchases in bulk by news agents or others for re-distribution; also, whether in your opinion the provision covers paid circulation of daily newspapers not distributed through the mails."

Attorney General Wickersham replied categorically and definitely to those inquiries, holding that: (1) "It is immaterial whether or not the subscriptions are individual or in bulk. The statement should include the average of the number of copies of each issue of such publication sold or distributed to all persons who have subscribed; that is, have agreed to take and pay for one or more copies of the publication for a definite period of time and have paid for such subscriptions; and, (2) in my opinion the provision covers the number of copies of such publication distributed to such paid subscribers by any means, whether by the mails or otherwise."

Attorney General Wickersham's opinion sets out with a review of the law itself and the question raised by the postmaster general.

IN MEMORIAM.

Died, in this city on Sunday morning, September 29th, 1912, James Alves Walker, in the 78th year of his age. A friend, who knew him from his early boyhood, desires to pay this tribute to the memory of his old friend, now passed away.

Captain Walker was a descendant of an old and distinguished family, active in Colonial and Continental days, and inherited many of the noble traits of his ancestors. He was a gentleman. Throughout his life he was a constant reader and had amassed a store of varied and valuable information. He was an interesting talker and possessed a firm and pungent humor which he expressed in quaint and, at times, emphatic language.

He was a man of quiet and gentle character, amiable disposition and agreeable manners, without an enemy. And, though not known to many, he was greatly admired and beloved by his friends and associates. He was a true man, without guile, of pronounced opinion and not easily swayed when his mind was fully made up.

"After life's fitful fever he sleeps well" and leaves behind him "a lasting, high and happy memory" which his relatives and friends will long cherish and revere.

A FRIEND.

Girlish, Wrinkle-Free Skin Easy to Have

(From Pilgrim Magazine.)

Since its remarkable astringent and tonic properties became known, clever women all over the world have been using the saxolite face bath to "tone up" their faces, remove wrinkles and draw flabby cheeks and neck back to normal. After using the solution, the face immediately feels much firmer. The skin tightens evenly, gradually, all over the face, thus reducing lines and sagginess. The formula is: Powdered saxolite, 1 ounce; dissolved in witch hazel, one-half pint.

Another wonderful facial beautifier and rejuvenator that has become quite a rage in the United States, as in Europe, is mercolized wax. Druggists report a great demand. The wax literally absorbs a sallow, blotchy or withered complexion, giving the fresh, vigorous, healthy-hued young skin underneath a chance to "breathe" and to show itself. Applying the wax at night, like cold cream, washing it off mornings, will completely renovate a poor complexion in a week or ten days. One ounce usually is sufficient.

MAJOR BERNARD'S FORECAST

Conservative Review of the Senatorial Situation in the State

(Charlotte Observer.)

To the Editor of The Observer:

As the Senatorial campaign has now reached that stage of its progress when the arithmetic men are beginning to adjust their eye-glasses and sharpen their pencils preparatory to "figuring out" the result, I venture to submit the following forecast for the consideration and criticism of the readers of The Observer:

I assume that the total vote cast in the primary will be approximately 165,000. It will, of course, vary from these figures, but I adopt that as the basis of my estimates, and apportion that vote among the three candidates, as follows:

For Simmons	90,000
For Kitchin	57,000
For Clark	18,000
Total	165,000

But it will doubtless be asked why Clark is placed so low and Simmons so high in the division of the total. In reply to this, I would say, as to Clark, his candidacy has never been seriously considered since the opening of the campaign; he is handicapped by the almost universal belief that he is not in the race; and it may be doubted if his most enthusiastic friends can place before them a county map of North Carolina and, after a careful examination, stick a pin in a single county that will give Judge Clark a majority over both his opponents.

The estimate for Simmons is based partly on advices received (through correspondence) from leading Democrats in many sections of the State and partly on Simmons' ability as a political organizer. But the great, the underlying, factor in favor of Simmons is the deep-rooted conviction in the minds of tens of thousands of intelligent and thoughtful Democrats that he has made an able, honest, faithful and useful representative of his people. Nor do they overlook the fact that his long experience in the Senate counts largely in his favor. Hence they believe it would be unwise to displace him with an untried man. It is this class of Democrats whose faith in Senator Simmons cannot be shaken by attacks made directly on his record or by assaults made by innuendo on his character. These are the men who will vote for Senator Simmons and who will send him back to the post he has so signally honored.

Now, as to the ten Congressional districts. The Kitchin managers claim the First, Second, Fourth and Fifth districts. In this I concur except as to the First district, which I think will be carried by Simmons, along with the Third, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth and Tenth districts.

But, a word as to the Fourth district which the Kitchinese have been claiming by a large majority. A danger signal has been hoisted in that quarter; the Macedonian cry, "Come over and help us," has been heard in Manager McNinch's headquarters in Raleigh, and the Hon. Claude Kitchin and Mr. Aubrey L. Brooks, of the reserve corps, have been hurried to the rescue. Their assignments consisted of seven or eight speeches to be delivered in Wake, Johnston, Nash and Vance counties—all in the fourth district. The only exception in the list was one speech at Mount Olive in Wayne county. The unprejudiced reader will naturally conclude that there are some weak spots in the Kitchin organization in the Fourth.

It may be pertinent to say something of the outlook in the west and in the piedmont sections. I have what I consider thoroughly reliable information from the counties of Burke, Watauga, Buncombe, Mecklenburg, Gaston, Cleveland and Rutherford counties, and if the Simmons strength in these counties may be accepted as a fair index of the sentiment in the west, the trend to Simmons seems to be rapidly assuming the proportions of a landslide in that section.

Viewing the present situation in a general way, while there will no doubt be variations from the figures given above, I am firm in the belief that my claim of 15,000 majority for Simmons in the first primary will be fully verified when the result of the primary becomes known.

Though somewhat of a disgression from the main question, I think it will be well for the newspapers and party managers to remind the pollholders in the Senatorial primary that some confusion may result from a misuse of the words majority and plurality. In the three-cornered fight for the Senate one of the candidates, in order to have a majority in a precinct or county, must receive a larger vote than that of his two competitors combined, while a plurality would simply mean that his vote was larger than that of his next highest opponent. The official returns of the pollholders will doubtless be in proper form; but in sending returns to newspapers and party headquarters all confusion may be avoided by giving the total vote cast for each candidate.

The difference between majority and plurality seems very simple; but experience has shown that mistakes are often made in the use of the words.

W. H. BERNARD.

Fayetteville, N. C., Sept. 26th.

Major Bernard's Forecast

The Observer attaches importance to the Senatorial forecast as made up by Major William H. Bernard by reason of the fact that Major Bernard is first of all a conservative man. Again, he is a man of long experience in political forecasting and his knowledge of men and affairs of the State and his sources of gathering correct information lend weight to whatever arguments he may advance and whatever conclusion he may arrive at. Our own opinion of his forecast is that he has leaned a little too far to the side of conservatism, but for that reason, his letter is all the more worthy of the attention of thoughful readers. We might add that Major Bernard presents this forecast at the request of the editor of The Observer, made a month ago, and it is the result of a careful search for facts bearing on the situation.—Editorial Charlotte Observer.

WHAT HEALTH FACTS DO.

How They Woke Up Rocky Mount and Started Movement.

No one doubts that he lives in a healthy community. We always think it is the other fellow, or some other country that has plague or cholera and a high death rate. The facts in the case sometimes show startling conditions to the contrary. Then there follows some prompt, vigorous action, and it is surprising to see such wonderful results accomplished in a brief time with such little effort.

This was just what has happened in the town of Rocky Mount about a year ago. Vital statistics plainly showed that among a certain class of citizens in that town, living in unsewered districts, the death rate during fly season was over four times the normal. These were very disagreeable facts, but they had to be faced. A correspondent in telling the State Board of Health how they did it, comments as follows: "We forced the erection of hundreds of surface closets and have improved the sanitary conditions of all the old closets. I am glad to say that the mortuary records this year show marked improvement over last year. A part of the change may be accidental, still it is reasonable to assume that a large part of the improvement was due to improved conditions."

When North Carolina has Statewide registration of all births and deaths, many other towns and communities will do the same thing and at the same time other places will become noted as health resorts.

Let's know the facts.

It is of very little importance simply to know that the death rate from typhoid fever in one's town or county is 50 per 1,000 population. But it becomes of vital importance to know this when we also know that the average death rate in the United States from this disease is only .23 per 1,000. When we have our own figures to compare with some standard or an average, we can begin to find out where we stand. So it is with all the other diseases. When we once find out which diseases have high death rates and which have low death rates, we know what to provide against. When we have State-wide registration of vital statistics we will know all this and more.

THE MORNING STAR

Published by the WILMINGTON STAR COMPANY, INC., Wilmington, N. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., under Act of Congress, March 2nd, 1874.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.

Tuesday, October 1, 1912.

Women for stratagem and men for the spoils.

North Carolina is this week to have either a visit or a visitation from the Bull Moose.

Some men may require experience, but some of them become entirely too experienced.

The pictures of some of the Mooseettes are worth looking at, but the moosettes really don't know what it is all about.

The Bull Moose party is to be organized in South Carolina. The Palmetto State is prepared to stomach almost everything now-a-days.

Job Hedges, the Republican candidate for Governor of New York, is the author of a book. He is lucky if his opponents cannot get hold of a copy.

In behalf of Buncombe county, North Carolina, we wish to state that politicians do not get their supply of buncombe in that good old mountain county.

Judging from the numerous "charges" made in political circles in South Carolina, those who run for office over there are getting entirely too much credit.

Says the Washington Post: "When it comes to campaign contributions, the solid South is the stolid South." Well, it seems to be true. We don't contribute the way we vote.

Why should a Democrat scratch when there is everything to lose and nothing to gain by it? Scratchers endanger Democratic success, if they would only stop to think about it.

If Chairman Hilles really expects it to happen like he says it will turn out, he had better prepare for the kind of consolation that sustains a fellow who expects everything and gets nothing.

The political machine is one which runs politics. Political machines are either old or new, but the older ones generally have a hard time because they have failed to see that every fellow gets an office.

The New York Bull Moosers nominated Straus for Governor, and the Republicans have nominated Job Hedges. If Job Hedges on the political issues he need not expect to be Governor of New York.

If is no compliment to the lucidity of Roosevelt's ideas on the trust question that so learned a man as Wilson should not understand them. The Third Termer might use some plain language and state positively what he and Perkins do mean.

A Chicago man who was arrested for being intoxicated, proved in the police court that he had been henpecked for twenty years and that he had never got up spunk enough to take a drink. He was discharged and sent home for whatever punishment was coming to him.

"Prosperity does not depend upon monopoly," says Governor Wilson. The trusts depend upon monopoly for their prosperity, but, of course, the Governor meant to call attention to the absurdity that monopolies which exploit the people make prosperity general. It makes prosperity one-sided.

We are informed that a tremendous outpouring of thirty people greeted Iredell Meares, Progressive candidate for Governor, who spoke here last night. We hear that the audience was composed of nineteen bulls, seventeen mooses and four unclassified. The quietude which prevailed during the speech is said to have been vociferous.—Greensboro Record.

The Wilson javelin hit Teddy 'twixt the ribs, and without trusting to a statement of his position, the Bull Moose says Governor Wilson is guilty of "not merely an untruth but the direct reverse of the truth." That is Oyster Bay jargon for "lie." The Colonel might make the people believe it if they did not know the Rough Rider's reputation for trying to get out of it by saddling the blame on somebody else.

Col Roosevelt fights shy of the tariff but talks about "social and industrial justice," just as if that is a National issue. The Bull Moose seems to have religion and politics mixed. If the country had more religion it would have more social and industrial justice, and there would be no such thing as taxing the masses for the making of millionaires and trusts. If the Colonel really wants social and industrial justice to get a showing Nationally, he ought to be denouncing the injustice of the protective tariff. On the other hand, he favors it and thus advocates a system that is both unjust and infamous by reason of the burdens it put upon the masses.

COL. ROOSEVELT IN THE SOUTH

Ex-President Roosevelt is now in North Carolina and will speak at several places in the interest of his candidacy for a third term as President. As usual, North Carolinians will give the former President a courteous welcome, and respectful hearing, just as they have done in the past. They also have manifested that spirit toward President Taft, and today the President would receive his old-time welcome if he were to visit the State.

Colonel Roosevelt's visit this time is a political one, and if he thinks it worth while to have come to the South with his "New Nationalism" doctrines we are sure the South can stand it if he can. However, the third term candidate is not at all complimentary to the common sense or wisdom of Southerners when he tells them that they vote the Democratic ticket because their grandfathers did so. That is giving our grandfathers all the credit, but since we come to think of it, our revered ancestors were mighty wise old fellows. The Colonel may not think much of the grandfathers of Southerners but we will bet a new hat against the one that's in the ring that Southern voters are not ready to go back on grandpa for any third termer.

In his speech at Montgomery, Ala., the Colonel made an appeal to the South for support of the so-called "Progressive Party." It is natural for him to make such an appeal, but it would be unnatural for the South to heed it. "Men, I am trying to reach the man who is for me, but who votes against me because his grandfather voted that way," said the Colonel to the Alabamians. There may be some who have handed the Colonel a few bouquets, but he should not be so susceptible as to believe that there are many men in the South who would talk that way to his face and vote against him behind his back. The Colonel is not the only Northerner who thinks Southerners vote according to tradition and not according to the dictates of intelligence, conscience and principle.

Roosevelt claims to be a student of history and public affairs. He ought to be sufficiently posted as to know that the Republicanism for which he once stood made it impossible for a loyal Southerner to be a Republican. He co-operated with that party when the South was fighting against it to preserve its very civilization. It had no aid from Roosevelt when it needed him most, but we know where the "grandfathers" would have stood if they had been here. Even if the principles of the Republican party had appealed to Southerners, they could not have abandoned their civilization and revolutionized their social and political ideals with self-respect.

However, Roosevelt has quit the Republican party and makes an appeal to us on what he thinks is something different from Republicanism. It is different. It is worse, for it retains the worst form of Republicanism and adds Populism and Socialism in old and new forms. The South never took to Republicanism because it was contrary to Jeffersonian principles, and it cannot adopt the more radical ideas of Rooseveltism, a somewhat startling propaganda to spring in a nation of people who regard their National and State constitutions as sacred. Even if all things else suited, both as to the man and his almost indefinable platform, the recognition of third termism would be impossible in the South. The Savannah Morning News speaks for all the South when it says:

"The crowds that greet him in the South are no indication that he is going to receive a big Southern vote. There is great curiosity to see him and to hear him speak. He is a man of note, a great character in American politics. A man can be that without having the esteem and approval of the people. Here in the South the most American part of the country's population is found. There is still reverence for the founders of the nation and the things they thought necessary to the perpetration of the republic. One of these things is that a President shouldn't have a third term. Col. Roosevelt wants to be the man to destroy the third term tradition. He believes if he could do so he would be remembered as long as Washington or Lincoln. Besides, he might be elected for a fourth, fifth and even more terms. He is a strong believer in one-man rule. And he is very ambitious. The Southern people are not going to support him. They don't trust him, and there is no prospect that he will break the solid South. They will listen to him but they will not vote for him."

Roosevelt may have so little opinion of Southern men as to say they vote blindly because their forefathers voted that way, but he is neither complimentary to our grandfathers nor to us. However, he will learn that the South considers the issues with intelligence, and does not for a moment consider Bull Mooseism as a sane political proposition.

FUSION IS TALKED.

Former Republicans who are now Bull Moosers, owe it to themselves to deny the rumor that they will support Settle, Taft Republican, for Governor, against the Hon. Iredell Meares, the Bull Moose nominee. It is true that in a recent declaration Mr. Meares admits that there is not enough difference between him and Mr. Settle to make a joint debate between them worth while, but at the same time the Taft Republican platform is not Bull Mooseism. The Taft platform declares for local option and the Bull Moose platform declared against opening the liquor question in this campaign. Outside the prohibition question, however, Mr. Meares does not regard Republicanism and Progressivelsm so very far apart—not enough to dispute about on the stump.

There is talk of fusion, however, and it is said Marion Butler is making an effort to get the Taftites and Bull Moosers together on a State ticket. The proposition is to sacrifice Mr. Meares, who evidently has a larger support than Settle. Both sides would have to consent to fusion, but we take it that the Bull Moosers could not afford to sacrifice Mr. Meares. At the same time, the Greensboro News on Saturday contained an article as good as declaring that a fusion arrangement was all but settled, and that while Col. Roosevelt is in the State this week it would meet his approval. There is one Bull Mooser, however, who won't stand for it, and he is Mr. James N. Williamson, Jr., of Burlington, who led the Roosevelt movement in North Carolina. Mr. Williamson published this card in Sunday's Greensboro News:

"My Dear Mr. Editor:

"In notice in your columns of this morning an article headed 'Two Party Factions will join forces'. In this article there is much said about Taft Republicans and Progressives uniting and that the matter has been arranged by the 'Powers who know' and that the matter has been all planned out and that it will be accepted by Col. Roosevelt as he passes through our State next week. I merely want to say that I know of no move upon foot by which the Progressives in North Carolina will unite with Taft Republicans, and I want to say to every Roosevelt man in North Carolina that I do not think that Col. Roosevelt will indorse such a plan of action under any circumstances. I want to say that I am a Progressive because Col. Roosevelt says he is a Progressive, and I propose to make this a campaign fought through Progressive ranks and upon Progressive State and National platforms, and we will not fight as Roosevelt Charlotte thrown out Republicans, upon Taft Republican platforms.

"Yours truly,

"JAMES N. WILLIAMSON, JR.

"Burlington, Sept. 27."

We do not think there will be any formal fusion, but Mr. Williamson and Mr. Meares will find out that they are apt to be sold out if the goods can be delivered by those who scent spoils.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The Hon. Iredell Meares, candidate of the Progressives for Governor of North Carolina, who spoke in the county Court House last night to an audience mostly composed of Democrats, does not take kindly to this talk he has heard about both factions of the party getting together and he expressed his opposition in no uncertain terms. All the same, the two lone Taft men in Guilford stand a chance to put the whole Progressive outfit, in this county at least, out of business. At a joint meeting held here some time ago these two men captured the convention and the Progressives bolted.—Greensboro Record.

IN MEMORIAM.

On the morning of September 28th, 1912, the spirit of Mrs. Adelaide Ford Evans passed out of a great life and took its flight in the Great Beyond. And in her death a beautiful life has passed away. Mrs. Evans possessed a mind of rare culture and refinement, and in her arms was the strength of purpose and in her mouth the voice of gladness. She was possessed of a manner pleasing and unaffected, a disposition naturally cheerful and a heart overflowing with kindness. She won all who came within the influence of her kind and gentle spirit. Her presence always shed sweetness and light, ever making life brighter and more noble to her friends, and she touched a cord in the human soul that filled the whole life with sweeter music and forced the mind and heart upward through the maze and gloom of sin and strife in this world to the brightness, beauty and perfection of God.

She loved the beautiful in life and was a gifted and charming reader. She loved books and flowers, and these were her constant companions. She believed the grand essentials of life were something to do, something to love, and something to hope for. She added much to the pleasure of her friends, and the golden cord of love was a distinctive trait of character in her life. Her character was soft and beautiful and she disseminated sunshine in every walk of life. She was a tender and loving mother, a devoted and loyal friend. "She beautifully fell asleep, whispering sweet peace, as the gates of God's paradise shut her from mortal view."

She lived a noble life; she died a noble death. We shall not forget her sweet memory.

WALTER R. KINGSBURY.

WHAT THE PEOPLE SAY

The coming of Senator Simmons to Wilmington has created considerable enthusiasm among his supporters; and his expected speech in connection with his candidacy for the United States Senate was generally discussed on the streets yesterday. Many representative men of all classes were interviewed on the situation, and some of their statements were as follows:

R. W. Wallace—"I am in favor of Senator Simmons being returned to the United States Senate from North Carolina, because I believe that he is in a position to render more valuable service to the State and the entire South than any other man who could possibly succeed him."

J. A. Taylor:—"Senator Simmons is one of the leading authorities on Waterways in the country. As a member of the National Waterways Commission he toured Europe and this country in an exhaustive examination of these public works, and next to Senator Burton is probably the best informed man on the subject today in public life. He has done more for the port of Wilmington than any man the State has had in public life since the days of Senator Ransom, and he is the only public man who has openly committed himself to ro ting the Inland Waterway Canal via Wilmington, and this despite the adverse report of the engineers. His position in our National councils is so commanding and influential that his return to the Senate would be a guarantee of the canal passing Wilmington as well as assurance that our 30-foot project would in a few years be a reality."

Martin Newman:—"His experience and prestige in the United States Senate makes him the best fitted man in the race. If a man has done anything at Washington during twelve years of service, he could hardly be expected not to commit some errors; but if Senator Simmons has committed any errors, they have been in the interest of the people of his State and not against their interest."

John J. Furlong:—"I am for Senator Simmons for the United States Senate because his services are worth more to the State of North Carolina, and especially to Wilmington, than those of any other man who might succeed him."

D. J. Fergus:—As a Democrat, who was on the firing line in 1898, I wish to ask the Democrats of the State of North Carolina why is it necessary for the Honorable F. M. Simmons to have to say one word in regard to his re-election to the Senate? In 1898, when some of those who are opposing Senator Simmons now were dickering and trying to make a trade with the fusionists, and endeavoring to put the State under misgovernment, and whose whole object was to secure for themselves an office, disregarding the safety of the people of the State, Hon. F. M. Simmons nailed his banner to the mast of the old ship Democracy. He fought the people's battles in 1898. It is up to the people to fight his battles in the coming election; and in fighting his battles they are fighting their own. It is said that the people of our Republic are ungrateful to the men who stood by them in their hour of need, but in my opinion, when the verdict at the polls is rendered, the people of North Carolina will prove that to be false.

George Harriss:—Experience teaches that it is a mistake to remove men from office when they attain a position that renders their services of greatest value to the public. Senator Simmons is now in a position to be of invaluable service to the State and the best interest of the State ought to be the first consideration."

H. C. McQueen:—"I am in favor of Senator Simmons because he devotes his time and great abilities to the interests of the people who sent him to the Senate, and no one can give any reason for not re-electing him, except that Governor Kitchin and Judge Clark each wants the place for himself, and that is not a sufficient one for me. Besides his past great service, he is now in a position to do more than ever."

J. O. Carr:—"Senator Simmons' service to the Democratic party for thirty years presents an unbroken record of fidelity to the principles and traditions of the party. The great issue in this campaign, as admitted by Governor Wilson, is the tariff. If the Democrats regain possession of the government, they must do it on the tariff question. If Governor Wilson wins, he must win on the tariff record of Oscar Underwood and Senator F. M. Simmons. No Democratic Senator can be of so great assistance to Governor Wilson in future tariff legislation as Senator Simmons, and he will be needed in the Senate."

Walker Taylor:—"This county has been fortunate in having Governor Kitchin and Judge Clark address the voters on their claims for votes to send them to the United States Senate. As this county is composed of as high a degree of intelligence as any county in the State, I am glad that Senator Simmons is coming here, so that we may have an opportunity of hearing him, and we will then have had the situation presented to us by the three candidates, that we may select the best one as our representative. I am for Senator Simmons, for the record he has made for the past twelve years in the Senate, as in my judgment every vote he has cast has been in the interest of the State of North Carolina."

Marsden Bellamy:—"By reason of the probability, and I might say certainty, of Senator Simmons becoming the chairman of the Finance Committee of the Senate, which is one of the most influential positions in connection with the United States government, below that of the Presidency and it seems to me that the State of North Carolina would lose much of he prestige in the Senate if Senator Simmons were defeated in this campaign. His influence in the United States Senate, on account of his experience as well as the influential position which he will hold if he is returned, will render him of incalculable value to our State."

Walter Gafford:—"Senator Simmons' standing and influence in Washington, and his ability and knowledge of public questions, together with the record of accomplishments that have seldom fallen to a Southern man, in my judgment make him the best possible man we could have in the Senate."

J. B. Mercer:—"I am a plain business man, raised on the farm, and am interested in the needs of the average working man. I regard Senator Simmons' record a sufficient justification for the enthusiastic support of all Democrats. The very votes for which he is criticised, if properly explained, show him to be a real progressive Democrat; he has proven himself the defender of the people's rights, and especially the rights of the agricultural and labor classes; upon general principles, it is a mistake to change Senator and Representatives unless we can do better by doing so; and Senator Simmons is better qualified to successfully and satisfactorily serve the people than any new man. These are my reasons for supporting Senator Simmons."

Future Appointments.

Senator Simmons will leave Wilmington early Wednesday morning to meet appointments in the Sixth District and other places, as follows:

Whiteville, Wednesday, October 2nd.
Lumberton, Thursday, October 3rd.
Fayetteville, Friday, October 4th.
Rockingham, Saturday, October 5th.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Several Cases Were Disposed of at Yesterday's Session.

While the Recorder's court was in session only a short time yesterday morning a number of cases were disposed of. Willie Burnett, colored, charged with the larceny of three bananas from a Greek, received a sentence of three months on the county roads. A case against Perry Dawson, a white man, charged with violating the prohibition law, was continued until Thursday, and in default of $200 bond he went to jail. Dawson has been running the place formerly conducted by J. C. Vereen, one of the nolo contendere defendants in Superior Court. A case against Edward McNeil, colored, charged with violating the prohibition law, was nol prossed, Assistant City Attorney Peschau being convinced that the charge could not be substantiated.

A case against Joe Bowman, colored, for assault on a female, Janie Bowman, was continued until Thursday, and Thos. Bell, colored, for a similar offense, having assaulted Mary Stanley, was required to pay $25 and costs. Both Bell and the Stanley woman pleaded guilty to a charge of living together illegally. Judgment was suspended in the case of the man, who was fined in the assault case while the woman was sentenced to 60 days on the county farm, provided she is in the city Thursday. She agreed to get out right away. In a case against Ben Green, colored, for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs. Henry Jackson and Edward Jefferson, both colored, were tried on a charge of an affray. Jackson was found guilty and fined $5 and the costs, while Jefferson was found not guilty. Ben Burnett and George Fisher, both colored, pleaded guilty to a charge of gambling and were fined $5 each and costs.

There were three cases against Mary Brown, colored,—nuisance, drunkenness and disorderly conduct and resisting an officer. She was arrested early Sunday morning in Foster's alley and was either crazy drunk or violently insane. Sergt. E. J. Grimsley went with the patrol wagon to bring her to the City Hall. She did not like the looks of the officer, especially his nose, which she proceeded to flatten with one of her slippers in her right hand. She also struck the officer on the forehead. He bled profusely at the nose from the lick, but was not seriously hurt. Not satisfied with her attack on the officer she proceeded to break the lights on the patrol wagon with her slipper and would doubtless have made an attack on Officer Dew, driver of the vehicle, had he not jumped to the ground. Officer Dew did not get back on the wagon until after they had gone for a distance of more than a block and then only after the woman had been handcuffed by another officer, who came to the rescue of his fellow officers. Recorder Furlong decided that the woman should be examined for her sanity and accordingly continued the cases until the Clerk of Superior Court can make the examination.

SUPERIOR COURT

The Case of Penny Against the A. C. L. Railroad Taken Up

The two weeks term of New Hanover Superior Court for the trial of civil matters convened yesterday morning with Judge Frank Carter presiding. The first case on the calendar, that of B. F. Penny vs. the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company, was taken up. Court had not been in session long, however, when the panel of jurors was exhausted and a recess was taken until 9:30 o'clock this morning. Sixty names were drawn from the jury box and deputy sheriffs were busy during the afternoon summoning them to appear this morning, when it is hoped to select the jury. Mr. Penny is suing the railroad company for $20,000 alleged damages for injuries received when he was shot by a negro passenger near Almont some 10 or 12 years ago. The case has been tried several times. It has been to Supreme Court once or twice. Bellamy & Bellamy, ex-Judge E. K. Bryan and A. J. Marshall, Esq., appear for the plaintiff, while Davis & Davis, Rountree & Carr and John D. Bellamy & Son represent the defendant company.

The case of D. D. Boylan against H. H. Merritt was continued until the next term.

HOPKINS DAVIS & HINTZE

Meat Dealers Organize Strong Firm Of Experienced Men and Will Improve and Enlarge Their Already Fine Stalls

An announcement of more than passing interest, not only in the business world, but to the Wilmington public generally was made yesterday to the effect that Mr. John H. Hintze had been admitted to the firm of Messrs. Hopkins & Davis and that the same firm had absorbed the fresh meat business for so long conducted by the late Mr. I. B. Rhodes and subsequently by Mr. Hintze, at Front street market house, thus forming one of the strongest and most experienced firms in the fresh meat business this city has perhaps ever known.

The style of the new firm will be Hopkins, Davis and Hintze and it begins business on October 1st at Front street market, occupying three of the most desirable stalls on the north side and three on the south side. As will be recalled the city recently appropriated $5,000 for improvements at the market, in consideration of which the tenants of the stalls took long leases and in addition to this large expenditure, the new firm will also spend an additional $5,000 in fitting up one of the most up-to-date and most sanitary markets in the South. Refrigerator counters are to be put in and every other modern appliance known to the sanitary handling of fresh meats and kindred products.

The new firm is composed of Messrs. J. J. Hopkins, E. Y. Davis and J. H. Hintze, possibly three of the most experienced market men in the State, Mr. Hintze having grown up practically in the business. It is a strong organization and will provide Wilmington with a market second to none ever conducted or planned in this city.

THE WILMINGTON FAIR

Management Announces There Will Be No Differences—Announcement

The management of the Wilmington Fair Association announces that the Fair will be held as heretofore scheduled. The differences in the way, it is announced, have been adjusted. The public is asked to give its hearty support to this movement. A contract has been closed for About half the shows that the space will allow on the grounds and more than enough applications for the remainder of the space are on file. Mr. Percy Wells, in behalf of the management, left last night for Winston-Salem and Lynchburg, Va., where he will close with the remaining attractions to be entered for the Fair.

The War Department has given permission for a drill to be held on the grounds one day during the Fair and the soldiers will be brought up from Fort Caswell. Among the attractions already booked are a balloon ascension, high dive, two nights of fireworks, the display of which will be something never seen in this part of the country before. Persons who are interested in entries of stock, poultry or other exhibits, are asked to please arrange to have them in the care of the management by Saturday evening. A building is being erected at the park for the accommodation of these exhibits.

MR. GEO. O. GAYLORD WON.

Verdict in His Favor Returned in Civil Action at Southport.

A civil action tried in Brunswick Superior Court at Southport last week in which a Wilmington man was plaintiff and a number of local attorneys were interested, was that of Geo. O. Gaylord against C. L. McCoy and others and involved 1,500 acres of land near Northwest, Brunswick county, valued at about $9,000. Mr. Gaylord brought suit for deed for specific performance of contract. The trial of the case consumed three days and the jury returned a verdict Saturday night in favor of the plaintiff. This is the second time the plaintiff has been given a verdict. Appeal from the first verdict was taken to Supreme Court and a new trial was granted. It appears that Mr. Gaylord obtained an option on the land. When he took up the option and called for the deed he asked for a certain piece of land the defendants say was not included and it was on this ground that the deed was refused. J. O. Carr and W. P. Mangum Turner, Esqs,. of the Wilmington bar, and Cranmer & Davis, of Southport, appeared for the plaintiff, while the defendant was represented by ex-Judge E. K. Bryan and Herbert McClammy, Esq., of this city.

REVIVAL AT BROOKLYN.

Series of Meetings Began Baptist Church Sunday Morning.

The series of meetings which began Sunday morning at Brooklyn Baptist church promises to be one of the most fruitful held in Wilmington in many months. The pastor, Rev. J. A. Sullivan, is being assisted by Rev. J. W. Ham, of Atlanta, Ga., formerly pastor of a Baptist church at Newbern, and well known throughout the South as a preacher of great power. Mr. Ham is preaching some strong sermons and has deeply stirred the congregation. Mrs. Ham has a charming voice and is assisting in the meeting with soprano solos. The public is cordially invited to attend the services.

Mr. Yates About the Same

A message from the hospital last night at 10 o'clock was to the effect that Mr. John T. Yates, superintendent of lights for the Tidewater Power Company, who fell Saturday from a pole on the Atlantic Coast Line freight yards, was resting easy and that there was apparently no change in his condition. Mr. Yates fell on his head. It was necessary to perform an operation yesterday morning. This was done by the attending physicians, Dr. D. W. Bulluck and Dr. Ernest S. Bulluck. Mr. Yates has never regained consciousness.

SETTLE WITH POWER COMPANY

City Council Accepts Payment for Street Paving on Basis of 12 Inches on Each Side of Tracks—Meeting.

Following a conference at noon at which the details were gone into quite thoroughly, the City Council held a special meeting at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and passed resolutions formally accepting the Tidewater Power Company's proposition to pay to the city its portion of the paving on streets where it has lines on a basis of 12 inches on each side of the tracks. The company's franchise provides that it shall pave between its tracks and 12 inches on each side, while the street improvement act provides for the paving of 18 inches. However, Council took the position that the company had been led to believe that it would be required to pave only 12 inches on each side, and, besides, there is question of whether the city could compel the company to pave 18 inches.

It had been suggested that the Tidewater Power Co., pay to the city the amount due on a basis of 12 inches and a friendly suit be instituted for the balance that would be due on a basis of 18 inches. Mr. Hugh MacRae, president of the Tidewater Power Company, who attended the conference yesterday at noon, said that if the matter had to be settled by a suit he would not pay anything, but let the courts pass upon the entire matter. He raised a point that had not before been considered. The Tidewater Power Co., paid its portion of the cost of some of the original paving that was taken up to make way for the new paving and the materials this removed were used by the city. Mr. MacRae brought up the question of whether or not the company would not be entitled to be reimbursed for the material taken up from the old paving. After considering the matter from every angle and remembering that the officers of the company have been under the impression all along that only 12 inches would be required, members of Council practically decided at the conference to settle on this basis. It was decided to hold the special meeting in the afternoon to formally pass upon the matter.

Mayor Joseph D. Smith presided at the meeting with all members in attendance, except Councilman P. Q. Moore, who is still out of the city. In attendance also was Mr. Harry Woollcott, secretary of the Tidewater Power Co.; City Attorney Herbert McClammy, Assistant City Attorney Geo. L. Peschau, and Capt. Thos. D. Meares, city clerk and treasurer. City Attorney McClammy read the following which he had prepared as his opinion on the matter:

"Wilmington, Sept. 30, 1912.

"To the Mayor and City Council, Wilmington, N. C.

"Gentlemen—My opinion is, that the Tidewater Power Company is liable to the city for the cost of paving of its tracks and 18 inches on either side of the same, and that unless the Tidewater Power Company pays for the pavement of the space between its tracks and 18 inches on either side and a settlement is made by the city for the pavement between the tracks and 12 inches on the outside, that then the individual members of the Council would be liable in the event that a tax-payer brought suit to recover the difference between 12 inches and 18 inches.

"I am further of the opinion that the resolution adopted on the 30th day of September, 1912, would give the city authority to bring suit against the Tidewater Power Company in the event that a tax-payer brought suit to recover the difference above indicated. "Yours very truly,

"H. McCLAMMY,
"City Attorney."

The following resolution was then introduced:

"In view of the uncertainty as to the liability of the Tidewater Power Co., for the payment of street improvements recently made by the city along Red Cross, Front, Castle, Princess, Ninth and Fourth streets, and in view of the fact that the Tidewater Power Company has agreed to pay to the city the sum of $37,267.45 for improvements made by the city between the tracks and for 12 inches on either side thereof along said streets, which sum is, in the opinion of the Council, a fair and equitable adjustment of same:

"Resolved, That the city clerk and treasurer accept same, without prejudice to the rights of either party as to further liability on the same."

There was some discussion of the resolution. Mayor Smith and Councilman Tiencken hesitated about voting for it. Finally all agreed that morally the company should not be charged for more than 12 inches. The resolution was then unanimously adopted as was also the following:

"Resolved, That the city treasurer be instructed to accept the notes of the Tidewater Power Company in payment of its debt of $37,267.43, as agreed upon by resolution this day. Said notes to be $15,000 October 10th, $11,133 November 1st, and $11,134.45 December 1st, interest accrued amounting to $603, to be added to above deferred payments."

The meeting then adjourned.

SIMMONS SPEAKS TONIGHT

Senior Senator From North Carolina To Be Heard at Acadamy of Music This Evening—Rousing Reception Planned

Many warm personal friends and many enthusiastic supporters of his in his campaign for re-election to the United States Senate are planning a rousing reception for Hon. Furnifold M. Simmons upon his arrival here this evening to speak in the Academy of Music in the interest of his candidacy.

Mr. Simmons for 30 days or longer has been in the storm center of perhaps the most intense political rivalry extant in North Carolina in a generation and he has made it plain that he comes to Wilmington, not under the auspices of the State Executive Committee, but free to discuss in a Democratic speech his own record in the United States Senate, which record he emphatically said in his Charlotte speech he was not running away from but upon it. It was at first hoped that Senator Simmons might be able to speak from the portico of the City Hall, but in view of the unsettled and rather disagreeable weather, it was decided last night to have the speaking in the Academy of Music beginning at 8 o'clock. Former State Senator Brooke G. Empie, than whom there is no more genial and popular Wilmingtonian, will introduce the distinguished speaker and the Cape Fear Independent Band will furnish music for the occasion. Everybody is invited to hear Mr. Simmons whether they be supporters of his or not. He has a message to deliver and it will be worth while for every true citizen to hear what he has to say. Not only will he discuss his own candidacy, but the great National issues that are now engaging the attention of the public will be treated by him from an intimate standpoint as his commanding position in Washington, especially during the past session of Congress will give weight to anything he may say. Both ladies and gentlemen are invited to the speaking and it is certain that a great crowd will hear him.

With the lowering clouds yesterday evening and the damp, chilly atmosphere, the friends of Mr. Simmons were rather nonplussed at having made no other arrangements than for an open-air meeting, but after a conference with Manager Marx Nathan, of the Academy of Music, and the management of the Mills & Bernard Musical Comedy Co., they very kindly and courteously gave way to the exigencies of perhaps the most important political event of the campaign and consented to yield the use of the Academy of Music for the evening, a compliment which was rewarded with a promise from the Simmons management to see that the house is crowded the remainder of the week, especially on tomorrow afternoon at matinee and at night when "Hip Hooray" will be the offering and which is expected to fit nicely into the political atmosphere after hearing the distinguished Senator tonight.

Mr. Simmons will be met upon his arrival at the station this evening by a committee composed of Hon. Joseph D. Smith, mayor of Wilmington; Mr. M. J. Corbett, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Col. Walker Taylor, who will preside at the meeting; Brooke G. Empie, Esq., who will introduce the speaker, and George Harriss, Esq., chairman of the County Democratic Executive Committee.

Those in charge of the arrangements for the meeting desire it distinctly understood that there are no reserved seats in the Academy of Music; that chairs will be placed on the stage and these are for occupancy for any and all who may desire to use them. It will be strictly a Democratic affair and all citizens are equally welcomed.

Mr. Simmons leaves Wilmington on the early morning train Wednesday for Whiteville where he speaks the same day and regrets that he cannot spend the day in Wilmington, therefore everybody is invited to go to the station this evening upon the arrival of the train at 6:15 P. M., and escort him to the hotel, where he hopes to see as many of his friends as possible before the hour for the speaking.

Early yesterday when it became definitely known that Senator Simmons would be here tonight, Messrs. Wm. E. Springer and Jos. W. Little, subscribing themselves as managers of Governor Kitchin in New Hanover county, addressed a letter to J. O. Carr, Esq., asking that a joint discussion be arranged by wire here between the Senator and Governor Kitchin, to which Mr. Carr replied, declining the arrangement for the same reasons assigned by the State manager of Mr. Simmons in declining such debate, on the ground that it would not tend to create harmony in the party.

To this declination, Messrs. Springer and Little made further reply, which is offered for publication, with the entire correspondence, but which is declined for the reason that the subject matter is clearly of a political advertising nature and as such can be handled under this paper's invariable rule, only as an advertisement.

Attempt to Enter Residence

A burglar made a determined but unsuccessful attempt to enter the home of Mrs. J. E. Clark, No. 214 Red Cross street, Sunday night some time between midnight and day. A trash box was used in getting up to the kitchen window in the rear of the building. The intruder then removed the screen from the window and doubtless would have effected an entrance had he not been heard by Mrs. Clark, who was sleeping in an adjoining room. She made a light. She heard a noise several times during the night as if some one trying to get in and each time got up and made a light, but it was not until after this had been repeated two or three times that she made an investigation. From tracks on the outside the intruder wore about a No. 10 shoe. The matter has been reported to the police.

Boldly Entered Residence

Discovered in the act of burglarizing the residence of Mr. E. C. Bessellieu Sunday morning between 6 and 7 o'clock, a negro who is described as having worn a gray and white striped cap, made such a rapid exit when Mr. Bessellieu made for him that in getting downstairs he carried away the newell post from the stairsteps and literally fell all over himself as he became entangled in the railing. Several members of the family were awakened by the negro before Mr. Bessellieu spied him and gave pursuit. Fortunately nothing was stolen on account of the timely discovery of the presence of the burglar.

Ran White Woman Down

Frightened out of his wits because he had recklessly driven a bicycle into a white lady at Fifth and Walnut streets last night about 10:45 o'clock, an unknown negro threw his wheel down in the street and ran. The police station promptly sent an officer to investigate but the lady declined to disclose her identity to avoid the publicity and the officer took the wheel to the police station where it is held for the appearance of the owner.

WHAT S.S.S. STANDS FOR

The familiar letters, S. S. S., stand for Siwit's Sure Specific, a name honestly and fairly earned by a great blood remedy. It is worthy of its title because it really CURES every ailment resulting from impure blood. The majority of physical afflictions are caused by bad blood, because a weak, polluted circulation deprives the system of its necessary strength and disease-resisting powers. S. S. S. cures every disorder which comes from weak or diseased blood, it tones up and regulates every portion of the system, and creates an abundant supply of nourishing properties which fill the circulation and bring health to the body. S. S. S. is made entirely of healing, cleansing roots, herbs and barks, which are also possessed of great tonic properties. It does not contain a particle of mineral or other harmful drug, and is therefore the purest and safest blood medicine for young or old. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Scrofula, Malaria and all other troubles of a deranged circulation. Write for free book on the blood and any medical advice. Wilmington Must Provide for 30,000 More People!

Wilmington will DOUBLE its present population within the next ten years!

We believe this! You believe it! EVERYBODY believes it who has analyzed the conditions now confronting Wilmington and the South.

The entire South is now just in the VERY BEGINNING of a development era which will AMAZE THE WORLD—which WILL EXCEED anything heretofore known in any other section of these United States.

The factors which will bring about this great development to the South are in GREATER VARIETY and of LARGER IMPORTANCE than any other block of States have ever had in their favor.

Stop a moment and consider them! The rich fruit and trucking lands—millions of acres, and now practically undeveloped. The new regime of diversified farming. The improvements in live stock growing. Greater development of the valuable natural resources—the minerals, lumber and water powers. Immense increase in manufacturing, wholesale and retail establishments and business. Opening of the Panama canal. Inauguration of the Inland Coastwise route. Improvements of transportation facilities on all navigable rivers. Great increase in railway mileage. Increasing popularity of all coast and inland recreation resorts.

He, indeed, must be a pessimist, who doubts what all this potential wealth and these new activities MUST MEAN to the ENTIRE SOUTH.

Do not doubt for one moment that Wilmington is certain to secure her full share of this increased population and prosperity—is certain to have a population of NOT LESS than 60,000 within the next ten years!

And the one most serious question now confronting us, is this:

"What are Wilmington's facilities for taking care of this 30,000 additional population?"

The present city limits are restricted to a very small area—the limits were established in 1871, 41 years ago—and they have NEVER BEEN EXTENDED SINCE!

YOU KNOW it's practically impossible to rent a house in Wilmington today. YOU KNOW that the only other sub-divisions now available are of small areas—just a few blocks at the most. YOU KNOW that the city cannot extend to the North or the West, on account of the river—that it MUST extend to the East and South. YOU KNOW, too, that "Everybody's Going South."

Now, we assert, that if Wilmington is going to double its present population within the next ten years—and it is practically CERTAIN to do so—then some substantial, permanent and satisfactory provisions MUST BE MADE for the residential requirements of these 30,000 additional peoples.

It is with a proper recognition of the foregoing facts that we have planned, projected, permanently improved, and now offer

Sunset Park for Their Homes!

Here is an area, not of a few blocks, but of 442 acres—equal to one-fourth of Wilmington's present area—containing 1,640 beautiful lots—and providing a site for the satisfactory housing of 7,500 people, or one-fourth of the increased population we may reasonably expect.

Bear in mind this fact: That NO OTHER like provision has yet been made to take care of this added popualtion—no other provision CAN be made that will compare with SUNSET PARK.

Don't you realize that if every lot in SUNSET PARK were sold and occupied by a residence, that we have even then taken care of ONLY ONE-FOURTH of our anticipated increase in population—that three-fourths MORE of that increase, or 22,500 people, MUST STILL BE PROVIDED FOR! Think hard on that fact!

It should now be evident to the most casual observer, that SUNSET PARK is CERTAIN to be in immediate and unusual demand for residential purposes—that it will build up as a SOLID SECTION, and as an integral part of the city of Wilmington, within the coming ten years—that it will be, from the very beginning, the home of hundreds of Wilmington's best citizens.

Every one who has viewed SUNSET PARK, and acquainted themselves with our plans for its permanent improvement as a whole, agrees with us in all our predictions for its future, and admit that

Now Is the Time to Buy!

It is worth your while to read the opinions of the representative citizens who have acquainted themselves with this sub-division—most of whom will BUY, BUILD and MAKE THEIR HOMES IN SUNSET PARK.

COTTON DECLINED SHARPLY

Firm Cables Caused An Early Bulge, But a Sharp Break In the Afternoon Sent Prices 17 to 22 Points Lower

New York, Sept. 30.—While relatively firm cables caused an early bulge in the cotton market today, the general tendency appeared to be downward, and the market broke rather sharply in the afternoon with the close easy at a net decline of from 17 to 22 points. The opening was easy, at an advance of 4 points on October, but generally 3 to 6 points lower under liquidation by Saturday's buyers.

There was a good demand at the opening figures, however, owing to the relative steadiness of Liverpool and reports of too much rain in the Eastern belt. Houses with foreign connections were considerable buyers and shortly after the call prices rallied, with the active months selling 2 or 3 points net higher during the middle of the morning. The forecast for continued unsettled and rainy weather in the Eastern belt, helped the advance, but after the close of Liverpool had shut out arbitrage business, buying became less active and the market soon turned easier. Following a private crop report indicating a condition of 68.7, comparing with 74.6 last month, the selling became more general and the market closed within a point or two of the lowest. Southern selling was a little heavier during the afternoon, and there were reports of freer Southern offerings, which probably contributed to the decline.

Spot closed quiet. Middling uplands, 11.45; middling guif, 11.70; sales, 600 bales.

Cotton futures closed easy.

If sugar did not dissolve in the mouth you could not taste the sweet, GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC is as strong as the strongest bitter tonic, but you do not taste the bitter because the ingredients do not dissolve in the mouth but do dissolve in the acids of the stomach. MONEY REACHES HIGH MARK

Call Loans Advance Suddenly to Seven And One-half Per Cent—Stocks Distinctly Irregular at Opening, Heavy at Close

New York, Sept. 30.—Further heavy gold engagements abroad and another sudden advance in call loans to 7½ per cent., the highest rate of the year, were the conflicting features around which today's active and at times strong, stock harket revolved. The higher rate for call money was a natural outcome of the preparations now being made by banks to finance the heavy October interest and dividend disbursements.

Stocks were distinctly irregular at the opening, a condition resulting largely from the lower range of prices for American in London. The market followed its home operations with heavy sales here in the first hour, unloading large amounts of United States Steel, Amalgamated Copper and Reading.

Under this onslaught it wavered, but went to a new level, the highest of the year, at midday under leadership of Steel. In the final hour, however, when money made its record quotation, heavy selling set in and prices crumbled until little was left of the rise. In fact, many stocks weakened to much below last week's closing level and the entire list reassumed its irregular trend, growing more heavy towards the close.

The local bond market was firm, with renewed demand for special issues. Total sales, par value, amounted to $2,450,000. United States government bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales, 787,000 shares.

VERIFY IT

The Proof is in Wilmington Almost at Your Door.

The public statement of a Wilmington citizen is in itself strong proof for Wilmington people, but confirmation strengthens the evidence.

Here is a Wilmington citizen who testified years ago that Doan's Kidney Pills relieved sick kidneys and now states the cure was permanent. Can any sufferer from kidney ills ask better proof? You can investigate. This case is right at home.

Miss Maggie Rivenbark, 105 Dock st., Wilmington, N. C., says: "You are welcome to continue the use of my former public endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills, for they gave me lasting benefit. I value this remedy highly in return for what it did for me. There was a constant, dull pain in the small of my back and some days I could hardly get about the house. The kidney secretions bothered me and I had but little strength or energy. I used several tonics and remedies, but nothing gave me relief until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, which were procured at Bellamy's Drug Store. They proved to be just what I required and it did not take them long to make me well."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

employees went out, but no disorder was reported.

At Lawrence and Quincy the request of the leaders that the strike be of 24 hours only was heeded and the strikers agreed tonight to return to work tomorrow. The Lynn strikers voted to remain out indefinitely and plans of other plants could not be learned. Leaders say that some strikes have been planned for other places in New England.

Women and Children Injured.

Lawrence, Mass., September 30. — Women and children were sufferers in the evening riot as they had been during the morning. Several were knocked down and apparently trampled upon, but none seriously hurt.

Dinner pails were snatched from the hands of operatives returning from work and hurled back into the faces of the owners. State police assisted the city patrolmen in quelling this disturbance. They drew their revolvers when the crowd became more menacing and at the point of the levelled weapons the mob was driven in sullen retreat for several blocks before it finally dispersed.

One of the addresses in Italian that aroused the crowd at the afternoon mass meeting was translated into English and given out tonight in the form of a statement by the speaker, Carlo Tresca, an editor of Pittsburg, Pa. It said:

"If Ettor, Giovannitti and Caruso are found guilty, or either of them is found guilty, the Industrial Workers of the World will march to Salem, storm the jail and rescue th epriseners, if possible."

CONFER WITHOUT RESULT.

Augusta Street Railway Officials Won't Arbitriate—Court Martial.

Augusta, Ga., Sept. 30. — Further conferences this afternoon between representatives of the city and officials of the street railway company and spokesmen of the strikers failed to reach an agreement on the question of arbitration. Report will be made at another meeting of the city council tomorrow.

The city was quiet throughout the day, but no effort was made to operate any street cars, at the request of the military authorities.

Three of the local companies of militia were disbanded today, leaving only one company of soldiers on guard tonight.

Preparations have been completed for the court martial tomorrow of Captains Jowitt and Henderson and 15 members of the militia in connection with the shooting of three citizens last week.

Major Claude C. Smith, of Atlanta, will act as judge advocate.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 30.—Adjutant General William O'Bear left here for Augusta tonight for the purpose of organizing the court martial tomorrow to try the officers and members of the State militia responsible for the death of three citizens of that city last week in connection with the street railway strike.

Major Claude C. Smith, of Atlanta, will preside as judge advocate.

REFUSES INJUNCTION

Judge Whedbee Holds That State Dispatch Can Support Moose Ticket

Durham, N. C., Sept4 30.—State Superior Court Judge Whedbee tonight declined to grant an injunction restraining the State Dispatch, a Burlington, N. C., weekly paper, from supporting the Progressive Presidential ticket. J. G. Waller, a stockholder in the Dispatch Company, had petitioned the court to restrain the editor of the paper from carrying out the directions of the majority stockholders, who voted after the Chicago convention to switch the paper's allegiance from the Republican to the Progressive party.

Waller claimed he had been induced to put money into the paper with the understanding that it was to be Republican in policy. Judge Whedbee held that the company's charter had not been violated and consequently the court had no right to interfere.

THE SEWERAGE SYSTEM

Will be Taken Over by Municipality Tomorrow, It Is Expected

Although today is October 1st, the time set for the transfer of the plant of the Wilmington Sewerage Company to the City of Wilmington, the transfer will not take place until tomorrow, when officials of the company will arrive here from Philadelphia and all details of the transaction will be completed. The Department of Water and Sewerage is ready for the additional plant at any time. A question arose yesterday relative to the verbiage of the deed of conveyance, but this was adjusted by telegraph and it is expected that the plant will be turned over to the city tomorrow. Council has agreed to pay $130,000 for the plant; $30,000 of which is to be paid when the plant is turned over to the city and the balance in annual installments of $5,000 each.

STATE SENATOR COBB DEAD.

One of Robeson's Most Progressive Farmers Passes.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Lumberton, N. C., Sept. 30.—Mr. W. S. Cobb, one of the largest and most progressive farmers in this section of the State, died at his home at Lumber Bridge, in the upper end of this county, last night at 10:30, after an illness of a month with typhoid fever. Mr. Cobb was thought to be improving until Saturday, when he grew worse, and all that medical skill could do was of no avail. Mr. Cobb served Robeson as Senator in the last Legislature. He was 36 years old. The value of his estate is estimated at from $50,000 to $60,000. Mr. Cobb is survived by a wife and five children, the youngest child being five weeks old. The funeral will be conducted from the home tomorrow at 11 o'clock.

IREDELL MEARES TO LOCKE CRAIG

In Humorous and Serious Vein Progressive Gubernatorial Candidate Writes Democratic Nominee Suggesting a Triangular Debate Between the Three Aspirants for the Office.

Hon. Locke Craig, Asheville, N. C.

My dear Mr. Craig: I understand that the Bull Moose in his native wild is a docile animal, but, if prodded, he gets mad, and "when he fights, he fights." It is possible that I am an evolution of the original breed. I fear that is somewhat my temperament.

Now, I note in your recent interview declining to debate with Mr. Settle you suggest that the Bull Moose candidate will get all the votes, which would be probable, if the people understood, but improbable, because they don't. There may be a subtle intimation in your interview that the proper candidate for you to meet would be the Bull Moose. This is prodding some. Then Mr. Settle reminds you that there has been no challenge extended by the Bull Moose to you, at least none made public, and, if any, it has been kept secret between us two. Here is another subtle intimation diplomatically suggesting to the public a sympathetic alignment between the Moose and the Mule. It is prodding some more. The Bull Moose gets restive. We know the only intercourse between us, since our respective nominations, was at an accidental meeting in Raleigh when each congratulated the other, as gentlemen may, and wished each other success in inverse ratio to what we really meant.

Now, I don't like a wrangle, personal, political or otherwise, and I don't think they are educational; but, when prodded, either by suggestion or direct challenge, I bristle up and like the prospect. I think it was Edmund Burke who said: "He that wrestles with us, strengthens our nerves and sharpens our will. Our antagonist is our helper."

Mr. Settle is right in wishing to preserve time-honored customs. I respect his deference to the past. I suggest, if you are of the same opinion, that you and I engage in an old-fashioned, time-honored, Zeb Vance and Thomas Settle political knock-down and drag-out. Logically, Mr. Settle and myself could not get up a real first-class political debate. He believes in the principle of protection; so do I. He believes that the Democratic party, historically and practically, is a party of negation, which has been given appropriately the unique emblem of the kicking mule, so do I. True, we might debate one question to which you say he is running, but that would serve no good purpose. Mr. Settle does not drink and is opposed to prohibition. I occasionally take a swallow, when the exigency of the situation provokes it, but favor the prohibition law. You know, as a lawyer, if the matter were referred to the present Supreme Court of North Carolina, Judge Clark, with a week-end twinkle of his eye towards the Senate, Judge Brown, with a Burgundy curl of his lip, Judge Hoke, with sohorous loquacity, Judge Walker, with facial immobility and Judge Allen, with the suavity of the Jesuit, would do the unusual thing of concurring in an opinion which would rule both Mr. Settle and myself out as irrelevant exhibits and incompetent witnesses to the issue each presents.

Of course, I might debate with Mr. Settle about the Chicago convention and the manner of its nomination of Mr. Taft, but that is a matter in his own political household; besides, his wing of his party won their suit of ejectment, whether fraudulently or not and it is up to the Republican voters of the country to sustain or over-rule the judgment. I might debate with Mr. Settle how the so-called State Republican convention mocked the spirit of liberty, discredited the people's representatives and closed the door of the assembly hall to their entrance by the Democratic police of Charlotte; permitting no one to enter, although he might have been sent as a delegate by his people at home, unless he were labelled, like a convict, and had his ticket of leave approved by Chairman Morehead. But then, I did not apply, although I had been elected a delegate and I was not ejected.

I remember, too, when Mr. Morehead and Mr. Settle began in the last campaign to recreate the Republican party and make it respectable, they regarded the elimination of Mr. E. Carl Duncan as essential to their high aims. I became persona non-grata to Chairman Morehead, because, forsooth, I enjoyed the acquaintance and had respect for Duncan; not that I was his henchman; nor, if I know it, any one's else henchman; but at the time I suffered a passing acquaintance with him. That was enough for Mr. Morehead. Now, this particular convention renominated Mr. Morehead as State chairman and Mr. Morehead promptly renominated Mr. E. Carl Duncan as National Committee bending "the pregnant knee, that thrift might follow fawning" and all with Mr. Settle's acquiescence I could hardly debate with Mr. Settle the reversal of their attitude to Mr. Duncan, since it would not be generous to twit the penitents who come at last to believe, that a man may split rails or "sail a boat" and command the respect of his fellows and rise to positions of high estate.

I might debate with him the bold usurpation of a party office by the State Republican convention and National Republican Committee, in ousting the Hon. Richmond Pearson and installing Mr. Duncan, but that is Mr. Pearson's combat, in which he worthily wore his spurs, and I do not think it is a debatable question of political ethics. I think the average North Carolinian, heir to the love of liberty, with red blood in his veins, will contemptuously resent it, without debate, and rebuke the men who were parties to the act.

Nor could I expect the proud defender of representative government, as interpreted by his recent so-called Republican Convention, who 'scorns the chief Bull Moose as an anarchist, perhaps the little mooses, too, to engage in debate with the candidate of a thing which did not cast, before it came into being, as many as 50,000 votes in the last election.

Since, therefore, Mr. Settle and myself are agreed in opposition to Democratic ascendency in State and Nation, a debate between us would be lacking in the glitter of rapiers metaphorically speaking, which makes interesting the public debate. We must entertain the dear people, you know, even if it should be a free show. We want their votes.

I think, therefore, it is up to you and me, and I am willing if you are, that Mr. Settle "may throw his hat in the ring" and we then could have a three-cornered debate. If you are not willing to let the doughty warrior from Buncombe play in the game, then, we will endeavor to get him to come along as umpire.

His handsome and debonair appearance would give effect to the color scheme of the occasion, while, if he were only umpire, I am quite sure the fear of your executive committee would be abated and they would permit you to go to the bat.

There are matters and things upon which we might really inform the public. I would like to hear your defense of several wrongs which your party had inflicted upon the State that should lead to its repudiation.

First. There is the lease of the North Carolina Railroad, at night, secretly, five years before the expiration of the old lease, at 1 per cent per annum on the stock held by the State, aggregating three million dollars par value, when, if open bids had been called for, there was an offer which the State might have accepted at 10 per cent. This has caused the State to lose the difference between seven and ten per cent of $90,000 annually for the 99-year period of the lease, or will cause it in time to lose an aggregate of eight million nine hundred and ten thousand dollars.

Second. There is the dismemberment of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railroad, permitted by the Legislature of 1899, which cut that railroad in two; gave one-half of it to the Southern and the other half to the Coast Line, destroyed the possibility of a trunk line and subjected the Central North Carolina territory to the freight rates now in existence and eliminated the then existing competition of this line with other railroads. This was done after the Federal Courts had held it could not legally be done, without legislative sanction, and it is singular that the sanction was concurrent with receipt by your party chairman for campaign purposes of contributions from the railroads. Mr. Simmons admits this, then chairman, and defends his action in taking them and in using his influence with the Democratic Legislature to prevent discrimination against the railroads, because he says it was necessary to redeem the State. I have been informed that this contribution from the railroads was $15,000. Were these railroads to be judges of what constituted discrimination? The cost of redemption came high.

Third. I would like to hear the defense by so eloquent a speaker of that deep wrong in which you took a part, in the attempt by impeachment to blacken the reputations, humiliate them and their families and consign to infamy the Justices of the Supreme Court, Judges Furches and Douglas, as well as the memory of the late Judge Faircloth. These men were gentlemen whose lives were above reproach and merely for a judicial act were subjected to as high-handed a proceeding in my opinion, as ever was attempted in North Carolina. It has always seemed to me a disgraceful episode in this State that the group of politicians in Raleigh at the time should have forgotten the respect due to character and should have aimed to destroy it in order to create vacancies in the Supreme Court of North Carolina, because they differed from the court about the construction of statutes and the power of the courts to issue writs.

Fourth. I would like to hear your exculpation of the antiquated, cumbersome and unjust system of taxation including our school system which your party has done so little to correct and its cant about local self-government while invading it at every turn to suit the whims of party exigency.

There are other maters and things both State and National, which I would like to have the opportunity to hear you in joint debate discuss, and not the least of these would be to hear you answer that enigmatical question, "what is a Democrat?"

Now, let's get into the sport. You can spangle the meads with flowers prose and I can babble, as suggested by a Democratic editor, like Tennyson's brooke, while men may come and men may go until the ides of November next. We can rely surely upon the public to put on the air brakes at the proper time, and thus we would have an occasional rest. We should not be so unsympathetic, however, as to cachet in a frozen separator, our brilliant and mutual friend, but, reconsidering your declination, let us invite him into the game. Mr. Morehead may preside, Mr. Walser sing "Onward Christian Soldiers," with interpolations, Mr. Webb mark time with his baton and Mr. Cowles attend as Red Cross specialist, if, perchance, the conflict should wax to the heat of that other one between Clark, Kitchin and Simmons.

Seriously and sincerely,

IREDELL MEARES.

Wilmington, N. C., Sept. 25th.

P. P.—This is confidential between you, me, Settle and the public.
